

Klajda Gjoshja was born in Tirana, on 28 July 1983. She is married with two children. Mrs. Gjoshja attained a Master's degree in European Studies in 2006 and graduated with BA Hons in Politics and International Relations (2005) in the University of Reading, United Kingdom. She has served as Member of the Parliament and also as Deputy Chair of the Foreign Affairs Committee (2017-2019), as Minister of European Integration in the Government of Albania (2013-2017) and Deputy Minister of Labor, Social Affairs and Equal Opportunities (2012-2013). From 2012 to June 2016, she was Deputy Leader of the Socialist Movement for Integration Party and Chairwoman of SMI Women's Forum. Mrs. Gjoshja held many executive positions in other institutions, such as Tirana Municipality, Tirana Regional Employment Directorate and National Tourism Agency. Recently, Mrs. Klajda Gjoshja was awarded as an Ambassador for Peace by the Universal Peace Federation. She is currently working with a UK non-governmental organization, SCJS, as a Senior Consultant on Partnerships.