

Vehbi BAJRAMI
Advisory Board Member
New York, USA

Born in Preševo he is the publisher of the Albanian-American Illyria newspaper, former Chief of Voice of America (Albanian section) author of books, and a well-known businessman in New York, where he resides. For more than 30 years, Vehbi Bajrami has been and is an activist and leader of the Albanian-American community, engaged in lobbying for the liberation, independence and recognition of Kosovo, as well as for protecting the rights of Albanians in their native lands. He has provided a precious contribution to the national cause through his contacts and connections to American personalities and heads of institutions at the highest decision making levels in the United States.